Sonic Bomb SBB500ss Loud Vibrating Alarm Clock Review

The Sonic Bomb Alarm Clock is one of the new breed of super alarm clocks to hit the market in recent years. Think about it – if you wanted someone to wake you up, you'd expect them to shake you and make a lot of noise, right?

Well, you don't have to hire a friend to do the dirty work for you, when you have the SBB500s by your bed. This alarm clock features a super-loud alarm, that is way louder than traditional clock-radios.

The volume of this alarm actually reaches an amazing 113db, though you can easily control exactly how loud you'd like it to be.

Let's Get Shaking

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the Sonic Bomb Loud Vibrating Alarm Clock, is the ingenious bed-vibrator function. This little disk fits in between your mattress and your box spring.

Once the alarm goes off, there's going to be a whole lotta shaking going on. The disk actually vibrates with strong pulsations to give your mattress (and whoever is on it) a good shaking to get you awake and moving in the morning.

You can choose a combination of both the loud alarm with the vibration, or either option on their own. Some people say that the bed shaker, alone, is plenty of stimulation to wake even the deepest sleepers.

Features & Details

- Sleek design makes it a very attractive piece of home electronics.
- The bed vibrator is powerful enough to shake deep sleepers from their slumber.
- The display is in bold, red lighting for additional eye-appeal.
- The alarm even sets off flashing lights on the clock, for a bit of additional stimulation.

Compared to other, super-powered alarms out there, the Sonic Bomb Alarm Clock is rather compact and subdued in appearance.

If you were to see this alarm clock, without knowing the powerful one-two punch that it packs, you'd never assume that this is one of the loudest alarms around. And even the bed shaker is deceptively small; so small, in fact, that many people just don't believe that it can shake a bed effectively – that is until they try it for themselves.
